

List of questions you should ask your breeder before purchasing

Are your kittens registered? If so, what association registers them for you?

Example: TICA (The International Cat Association)

What testing has been done? Will you send me the results?

Example: PkDef (Pyruvate Kinase Deficiency), PCR Fecal and Upper Respiratory for communicable diseases.

Are they energetic? How do you handle the space they need to run and play?

This will help you to find out what type of an environment they grew up in.*

How long have you been breeding?

Do not be afraid to adopt from a new breeder. Once determined they are ethical and responsible, you may get a great kitten.*

What breed are mother and father?

Example: Savannah to Savannah breeding. Or Savannah to Bengal breeding.

What immunizations will the kitten have when old enough to come home?

Kittens should, at minimum, receive two core vaccinations before being adopted.*

What further vaccinations do you recommend?

Can I see pictures of the parents of my kitten?

Do you have a pedigree of the parents and may I see them?

What food do you feed?

Can you do a live chat or Skype so I can see the kitten with you?

Will I get interim photos once I pick out a kitten, until they are ready to come home?

Do you have a list of references I can contact?
